Cookie Usage Policy

This website uses cookies solely to ensure its proper functioning and the use of all its features. This document provides detailed information on the use of cookies, how they are utilized on this site, and how to manage them.

Definitions

Cookies are short pieces of text (letters and/or numbers) that allow the web server to store data on the client (browser) for reuse either during the same visit to the site (session cookies) or in subsequent visits, even days later (persistent cookies). Cookies are stored on the user's specific device based on their preferences as set by the browser.

In general, these tools help facilitate web traffic analysis, enable the proper operation of the website, and allow web applications to send information to individual users.

Session cookies, the only type used on this site, prevent the use of other potentially harmful computer techniques for the confidentiality of user navigation and do not allow the acquisition of identifiable personal data. Users can delete cookies from their system at any time, using different methods depending on the browser used, or set their browser to not accept cookies and disable JavaScript. However, in such cases, the proper functioning of the site is not guaranteed.

The term "cookie" will be used below to refer to cookies in a general sense.

Types of Cookies

Based on the characteristics and usage of cookies, various categories can be distinguished:

- Strictly Necessary Cookies: These are essential technical cookies for the proper functioning of the site; session cookies are used to optimize site navigation. The duration of cookies is strictly limited to the work session (they are deleted when the browser is closed).
- Analysis and Performance Cookies: This website does not use this type of cookie.
- Profiling Cookies: This website does not use this type of cookie.
- Third-Party Cookies: This website does not use third-party cookies.

Cookie Duration

Session cookies remain active only until the browser is closed.

Cookie Management

Users can decide whether to accept cookies using their browser settings.

Settings can be defined specifically for different sites and web applications. Moreover, the best browsers allow users to define different settings for "first-party" and "third-party" cookies.
